

This four-bedroom modern barn-house is "C" shaped, designed around a central courtyard. This shape helps protect your outdoor living space from the wind while also creating a private sanctuary. Inside, the living is at the centre of the home and benefits from optional dual outdoor living. The master is located in a separate wing and includes a generously sized ensuite and walk-in wardrobe. An additional scullery, powder room and high living ceilings are just a few features in this already unique and timeless home.
